

CONTENTS

(Un)Discovery of Old People in Socialist Yugoslavia: The Knowledge Politics of Inequality Ulf Brunnbauer	5
Rethinking retirement in Greece: flexible pathways, gaps and policy implications Danai Konstantinidou, Evangelos Koumarianos	29
Do flexible retirement policies contribute to extending working lives in Hungary? Márton Medgyesi	51
Flexible enough? Retirement pathways and their outcomes in Lithuania Jekaterina Navickė, Romas Lazutka	65
Flexible Retirement Pathways in Romania: Rules, Motivations, and Implications for Prolonging Working Live Daniela Urse	81
From policy to practice: A resource-based assessment of access to human rights Bojana Vranić, Petar Vranić, Tadija Mitić	103
Constructions of Belonging from a Refugee Perspective in the Context of Neighbourhood in East Germany Anna Kasten	129
Self-Determination in Patients with Intensive Care Needs: Care Management Implication Corina Schiegl, Irmgard Schroll-Decker, Matthias Kurbel	149